

Published based on Poor Credit Home Loans - Some Valuable Facts!

Poor Credit Home Loans - Some Valuable Facts!

<http://www.realcase.com> Lenders assign you a credit score any time you apply for credit.

This is there way of them determining whether you are a likely candidate to give credit to, or not.

The credit score is a 3 digit number, typically in the range of 300 to 850. At the low end 300 means you have very bad credit and would be unlikely to receive a loan, and on the other end of the scale a credit score of 850 would have the lender salivating at the opportunity to loan you a heap of money.

Duration : 0:4:33

[youtube NUzh2bnup7E]

You can also find this article published on Poor Credit Home Loans - Some Valuable Facts!, and on the tag pages bad credit, bankruptcy equity home, credit, Credit Home Loans, Credit Score, equity home loan, no equity home loan, poor credit home loans, poor credit home loans 8211 some valuable facts, refinance mortgage.